Asian Development Bank

LAUNCH OF THE ACTIVITY

September 2022

MAIN OBJECTIVE

The Global Development Assistance (GDA) Programme, led by the European Space Agency (ESA), is a global partnership with key International Financial Institutions (IFIs) to integrate Earth Observation (EO) into development operations. Within this framework, the main objective of GDA Agriculture is to support sustainable and climate-resilient agriculture by delivering tailored EO-based information services that enhance planning, monitoring, and decision-making across agricultural projects in low- and middle-income countries.

MAIN THEMES ADDRESSED USING EO INFORMATION:

Timely, targeted insights in support of:

Improving agricultural resilience, planning and productivity

Supporting sustainable land and water management

Enabling climate-smart agriculture and risk reduction

Facilitating agri-finance and climate investment readiness

Enhancing pest and disease monitoring
